Catching Errors Early

Our quality control processes start at the beginning of the manufacturing process and continue throughout, with multiple checks at every step. This means that any errors or mistakes are caught early on avoiding mistakes or allowing for immediate reproduction. This allows us to maintain our turnaround times.

Maintaining Quality Standards

We have strict quality standards that we adhere to, and our quality control processes ensure that these standards are met every time. This means that our customers can rely on us to produce high-quality custom team uniforms that meet their expectations.

Ensuring Accuracy

Each of our orders is highly customized from the names, sizes, and numbers to the design and fit of each apparel piece. We are able to go beyond most manufacturers in customization options because of our refined QC checklists and processes.
